Chapter -10

Conclusion

Conclusion:

Our project will have a Register page from where the users can register into the site , the teachers can login into their site and can provide the project definition to the users. The users can download the project definition from their site. There is a notification bar at user's site from where the users can view the project definition. The users will be provided by an editor where they can perform the project. There after the users can submit the project directly to the teacher. The teacher can check the project and enter the marks of the submitted practical to the user. If the due date of the project is gone the marks will be automatically zero. The faculty can send the marks to the user and the user can view it from their site.

There is also an Admin Panel from where the users can be Activated , Deactivated , and Deleted .The new faculty can be added from the Admin Panel and also the existing faculty details can be updated or deleted from there itself. The admin can also add new course or update or delete the existing course.